

ALEXANDRIA.

THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 14.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"To show the very age and body of the Times."

Judge Jones, formerly Judge of the U. S. District Court at Montgomery, Alabama, has been indicted for treason, at that place, for accepting the office of Judge of the Confederate District Court, and holding the same during the war. Mr. George W. Gayle, who is charged with offering in the Selma Dispatch, a reward of one million of dollars for the assassination of President Lincoln, Secretary Seward and Vice President Johnson, was also brought before the Court at Montgomery, under an indictment for treason. Both parties pleaded not guilty, and were released on giving bail in the sum of fifteen thousand dollars.

Commodore John Randolph Tucker, late of the Confederate navy, has received the appointment of the supreme command of the Peruvian navy, with the title of Admiral, and he departed on the 1st instant from New York for Peru. Admiral Tucker was, by arrangement with the Peruvian Government, permitted to take with him his staff of officers, and was accompanied by his departure by Capt. D. P. McCorkle, of this State, and Lieutenant Butt, of Norfolk. Capt. McCorkle is to take command of one of the vessels, and Lieut. Butt is to be flag lieutenant to the Admiral.

It would seem that the surest and shortest path to paradise, now-a-days, leads directly through the Sixth Commandment, and that the most potent key to heaven is of the form of a murderer's knife. About all of our modern culprits who are brought to the gallows delight the souls of the attendant clergymen; and they leave behind them an odor of sanctity as much more powerful than that of ordinary saints as the musk of the perfumer is more powerful than the scent of the daisy.

A consolidation of the three great telegraphic companies, the "American," the "United States," and the "Western Union," has just been effected, with a joint capital of $50,000,000. This gigantic concern will now control every wire in the Union, with the exception of the single route between Washington and New York. It has some 3,000 offices, and the monopoly of the right of way over every railroad line in the United States.

P. O'Day, head centre of Buffalo, applied to General Barry for the return of arms and munitions of war seized there. O'Day claimed the arms as his private property. He says he had made advances on them as an auctioneer and commission merchant. General Barry replied that he is only the custodian of the arms, and that he seized them by order of superior officers.

The "City Pastor" of the City of Brotherly Love, has been embezzling funds belonging to a poor widow. That's bad enough, but the dragging and outraging of two innocent girls by a Rev. —, Chaplain 13th Illinois Volunteers, which has just come to light, is the most infamous piece of clerical villainy yet discovered.

Postmasters have been instructed to observe the following rules: "The mails of the U. S. must not be delivered at any post office or other place where there is not a regularly appointed postmaster, duly commissioned, or other authorized agent, duly appointed and sworn, according to law, to receive them."

A great part of the town of Margaquez, Porto Rico, was burnt, May 29th. An American man-of-war sent 50 men ashore to assist in extinguishing the flames. The loss has not been ascertained. James C. Gallagher, U. S. Consul at Ponce, died on the 28th, in an apoplectic fit.

At a meeting of the directors of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, the resignation of William Prescott Smith as master of transportation was accepted, to take effect on the 1st of July. Mr. John L. Wilson, the present master of the road, was chosen master of transportation.

The Emperor Napoleon is said recently to have declared to the British Minister, who solicited his mediation in favor of peace, that he "can no longer assume the responsibility of events." Clearly not. But, nevertheless, he can, in a great measure, control the movements of conflicting parties.

Gens. Steedman and Fullerton, recommend that the Sea Island lands in S. C., given to the negroes by General Sherman's order, be returned to their owners, provided they pay the freedmen for all improvements that the latter have made while in possession of the property.

The steamers Persia and Marathon sailed for Europe, taking upwards of three and a half millions of dollars in gold. Among the passengers in the former is Col. Sanford, president American Telegraph Company.

The passenger depot and wood shed adjoining, belonging to the Vermont and Massachusetts Railroad Company, at South Ashburnham, Mass., was entirely consumed by fire yesterday.

Hon. Moses F. Odell, naval officer of New York, and late member of Congress from Brooklyn, died yesterday. The deceased was connected with the custom house for many years.

The congregation of the Old School Presbyterian Church in Baltimore, corner of Franklin and Cathedral streets, fully endorsed the views and actions of their pastor, Rev. Dr. Bullock.

The President yesterday nominated to the Senate Green Clay Smith, a member of the House of Representatives from Kentucky, to be Governor of the Territory of Montana.

Robert M. Magraw, formerly a prominent citizen of Baltimore, died in New York, yesterday. He was for many years actively employed in affairs connected with railroads.

Mr. Joseph Jefferson, the best low comedian that America has produced, after an absence of five years in England, is expected to return home in August next.

The coal trade over the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal is just now encouragingly active. The shipments for last week reached 14,720 tons, making for the season 81,173 tons.

The old men among the Confederates captured at Cordova by the Liberals are to be released, but they threaten to draft the younger men into the Liberal army.

The Marcellus journals state that considerable purchases of corn and flour have been made in that port on account of the Italian government.

Several persons in New York, who had "invested" in the Fenian bonds, have lost heavily. What else could they have expected?

VIRGINIA NEWS.

A revival of religion is progressing at the Methodist Protestant Church in Norfolk. The altar is crowded with penitents nightly. The other night a young lady was among the number seeking pardon, and fainted and remained insensible some time before recovery. A few weeks ago this young lady was the object of the affections of a young man; and to test his fidelity, or her own power, in a playful but seemingly earnest manner, discarded him. He wrote her a note, placed it in her room, went with a despondent heart to the river, and drowned himself. His body was recovered and brought home. When this lady saw his lifeless form before her, she became crazed, and upbraided herself with ceaseless self-accusations as the murderer of the one she really loved with all her heart. She is now in mourning, and subject to fits of insensibility—a sad example for trifling natures.

The session of the Baptist General Association of Virginia, just closed, is spoken of as one of the best which has ever been held. The fact that $16,000 to benevolent objects should be contributed during the session speaks well. Rev. William Fisher has been appointed General Agent of State Missions and twenty missionaries are to be appointed at once, while it is believed that $100,000 will be obtained for Richmond College.

The Episcopal Methodist of Richmond, Virginia, already well and favorable known, has been transferred to Baltimore as the most favorable point for its publication. It is to take a wider sphere of usefulness. It is to take the title of the Baltimore Episcopal Methodist and will be under the management of the Rev. John Poirer. Its editors will be Dr. Thos. E. Bond and the Rev. S. S. Raszel.

James Stephens addressed a large meeting of Fenians and others on Tuesday night in Richmond. Some excitement was occasioned by the Irishmen present, expressing unfavorable opinions of Stephens' mission. He was not allowed to proceed. Stephens' was afterward serenaded at the Exchange Hotel.

John B. Baldwin, has prepared, and will shortly issue from the press, in pamphlet, the interview between President Lincoln and himself in 1861, which will wear a different face from that given it by Mr. Jan. Minor Botts.

The Petersburg Express newspaper office was destroyed by fire yesterday. Nothing was saved except a Hoe press in the basement, which was comparatively uninjured. Loss, $10,000, which is chiefly covered by insurance.

It is believed that Bishop Barry will recover from the severe injuries caused by the railroad accident near Coalfield. Mrs. Paine of Danville was the only person killed. Miss Newman of Orange county was badly injured.

The following is a copy of the joint resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution, in the form in which it has now received the assent of Congress, two thirds of each house having voted in favor thereof:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, (two thirds of both Houses concurring) That the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE.—
Sec. 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice President of the United States, Representatives in Congress, the executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of a Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State, being twenty-one years of age, and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations, and claims shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce, by appropriate legislation, the provisions of this article.

The question was put on concurring with the amendments of the Senate; and there were—yeas 120, nays 32, not voting 32.

A MODEL APOLOGY.—Having been reproved by a subscriber for its notices of the Presbyterian General Assembly, the St. Louis Republican apologized as follows:

"We are exceedingly humiliated, and shall endeavor to deport ourselves more becomingly hereafter; but a majority of the assembly were a shabby set of canting, puritanical, hypocritical, political demagogues, nevertheless."

"Centralia" is the name of the town recently laid out at Annapolis Junction, on the Washington branch of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. A great auction sale of the lots is advertised to come off on Monday, the 18th of June.

On the 7th instant, Prof. William Baer died at his residence in Frederick, Md., in the 79th year of his age. He was distinguished as a chemist, and in meteorology.

The people of Texas are subscribing to the fund now being raised in the South to defray the expenses of defending Mr. Davis.

General Sanford, President of the American Telegraph Company, has sailed for Europe, to make arrangements for making telegraphic connection with the Atlantic telegraph when it shall reach our shores; and also to push forward the work of laying a submarine telegraph from Florida to Cuba. It is proposed to continue the line from Cuba to the coast of South America, and have the whole work completed this fall. The telegraph wire, already stretches from London to the Amazon River, and from the Atlantic to the British possessions on the North Pacific. The missing links in the circuit of the earth, will, in a few months, doubtless be supplied, and then the mission of girdling the earth in forty minutes will be surpassed, with an odd half hour to spare.

A pardon was ordered to be issued yesterday by the President to Lewis M. Croxetter, of South Carolina, an officer in the late Confederate army, on the personal and written recommendation of Senator Pomeroy. This is the first privateer pardon that has yet been pardoned.

The President has directed a warrant of pardon to be issued to Lawrence Rousseau, of New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. Rousseau once occupied the position of a Commodore in the U. S. navy.
